RENCANA PEMBELAJARAN SEMESTER

Deskripsi Singkat MK	This course aims to provide students with critical analytical skills that are essential for linguistics and related fields, fostering a deeper appreciation for language diversity and complexity. Topics include word formation processes, morphemes, sentence structure, syntactic categories, and their social implications. The course utilizes lectures, interactive discussions, and hands-on activities, encouraging active engagement through real-world examples and collaborative exercises. Assessment methods include exams, class participation to evaluate understanding and application of concepts, and collaborative projects to explore practical applications of morphology and syntax, fostering teamwork and real-world relevance. This course aligns with SDG 4 (Quality Education) by promoting linguistic diversity, and SDG 10 (Reduced Inequalities) by addressing language and identity. By the end of the course, students will critically analyze English language structures and their impact.

1	Being able to identify a word and its parts: morphemes, roots, affixes and their shapes and describe how these processes contribute to the structure and meaning words	1. Students provide a precise and accurate definition of bound morphemes and free morphemes, distinguishing clearly between them. 2. Students accurately identify roots and affixes in a range of words, demonstrating a deep understanding of their shapes and functions. 3. Students demonstrate a thorough understanding of how affixation changes word structure, providing clear and accurate examples 4. Students accurately explain how affixation affects word meaning, including nuanced changes and providing multiple examples. 2	Being able to apply and analyse different processes of word formation, such as derivation, and inflection, and describe how these processes contribute to the structure and meaning words.	1. Students will clearly define derivation and explain how it involves adding prefixes or suffixes to a base word to create a new word with a different meaning or grammatical function. 2. Students will apply derivational affixes to base words to form new words and explain the change in meaning or grammatical function. 3. Students will define inflection and explain how it modifies a word to express different grammatical features such as tense, number, or case without changing the word's core meaning. 4. Students will correctly inflect base words to show grammatical variations and describe the effect on the word's function in a sentence. 5. Students will examine how each word formation process contributes to the overall meaning and grammatical function of words in context. 6. Students can accurately apply the conversion process to base words, demonstrating how the word's function and meaning change with its new grammatical category. 7. Students can analyze sentences or texts to identify instances of conversion and describe how this process impacts the meaning and grammatical role of the word within the context.	Kriteria: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. 3	Being able to apply and analyse different processes of compounding, and describe how these processes contribute to the structure and meaning words.	1. Students will define compounding and explain how it involves combining two or more base words to create a new word with a distinct meaning. 2. Students will create new compound words from existing base words and explain the new word's meaning based on the combination. 3. Students will identify and label the processes of compounding in given words, explaining how each process affects the word's structure and meaning.	Kriteria: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. 4	Being able to apply and analyse different processes of word formation (non affixation) and describe how these processes contribute to the structure and meaning words.	1. Student clearly defines blending and explains how it involves merging parts of two or more words to create a new word with a distinct meaning. 2. Student forms new blended words and explains their meanings based on the combination. 3. Student clearly defines clipping and explains how it involves shortening a longer word to create a new, abbreviated form. 4. Student creates clipped forms of longer words and explains their meanings. 5. Student clearly defines acronyms and explains how they are formed from the initial letters of a phrase to create a new word. 6. Student forms new acronyms and explains their meanings based on the initial letters of phrases. 7. 5	Being able to apply syntactic theories to analyse diagram structures, demonstrating an understanding of phrase structure rules, sentence constituents, and syntactic dependencies	1. Students can accurately create syntactic diagrams, such as tree diagrams or dependency diagrams, based on syntactic theories (e.g., X-bar theory, dependency grammar). 2. Students apply theoretical constructs, such as phrase structure rules and syntactic categories (e.g., NP, VP, PP), correctly in their diagrams 3. Students correctly identify and apply phrase structure rules to generate syntactic structures 4. Students can form and identify various types of phrases (NPs, VPs, PPs) based on the rules of phrase structure, showing how different elements combine to form larger units. 5. Students can explain how specific phrase structure rules are applied in their analysis and how these rules help in forming grammatical structures.	Kriteria: 1. Practical Assignment 2. 6	Being able to apply syntactic theories to analyse diagram structures, demonstrating an understanding of phrase structure rules, sentence constituents, and syntactic dependencies	1. Students can accurately identify the constituents of a sentence, such as subject, predicate, object, and complements. 2. Students apply constituency tests (e.g., substitution, movement, clefting) to verify the constituents 3. Students can identify and explain syntactic dependencies between words and phrases, such as subject-verb agreement or verb-object relationships. 4. Students create accurate dependency diagrams that illustrate the syntactic relationships between words, showing how different elements depend on each other. 5. Students can articulate how syntactic dependencies work and why they are crucial for sentence structure. 6. Students integrate theoretical knowledge from different syntactic theories to analyze complex sentences 7. Students critically evaluate the effectiveness of different syntactic theories in explaining sentence structure and dependencies. 8. Students apply multiple syntactic theories (e.g., generative grammar and dependency grammar) to analyze the same sentence and compare the results.	Kriteria: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Catatan

1. Capaian Pembelajaran Lulusan Prodi (CPL - Prodi) adalah kemampuan yang dimiliki oleh setiap lulusan prodi yang merupakan internalisasi dari sikap, penguasaan pengetahuan dan ketrampilan sesuai dengan jenjang prodinya yang diperoleh melalui proses pembelajaran.
2. CPL yang dibebankan pada mata kuliah adalah beberapa capaian pembelajaran lulusan program studi (CPL-Prodi) yang digunakan untuk pembentukan/pengembangan sebuah mata kuliah yang terdiri dari aspek sikap, ketrampilan umum, ketrampilan khusus dan pengetahuan.
3. CP Mata Kuliah (CPMK) adalah kemampuan yang dijabarkan secara spesifik dari CPL yang dibebankan pada mata kuliah, dan bersifat spesifik terhadap bahan kajian atau materi pembelajaran mata kuliah tersebut.
4. Sub-CPMK Mata Kuliah (Sub-CPMK) adalah kemampuan yang dijabarkan secara spesifik dari CPMK yang dapat diukur atau diamati dan merupakan kemampuan akhir yang direncanakan pada tiap tahap pembelajaran, dan bersifat spesifik terhadap materi pembelajaran mata kuliah tersebut.
5. Indikator penilaian kemampuan dalam proses maupun hasil belajar mahasiswa adalah pernyataan spesifik dan terukur yang mengidentifikasi kemampuan atau kinerja hasil belajar mahasiswa yang disertai bukti-bukti.
6. Kreteria Penilaian adalah patokan yang digunakan sebagai ukuran atau tolok ukur ketercapaian pembelajaran dalam penilaian berdasarkan indikator-indikator yang telah ditetapkan. Kreteria penilaian merupakan pedoman bagi penilai agar penilaian konsisten dan tidak bias. Kreteria dapat berupa kuantitatif ataupun kualitatif.
7. Bentuk penilaian: tes dan non-tes.
8. Bentuk pembelajaran: Kuliah, Responsi, Tutorial, Seminar atau yang setara, Praktikum, Praktik Studio, Praktik Bengkel, Praktik Lapangan, Penelitian, Pengabdian Kepada Masyarakat dan/atau bentuk pembelajaran lain yang setara.
9. Metode Pembelajaran: Small Group Discussion, Role-Play & Simulation, Discovery Learning, Self-Directed Learning, Cooperative Learning, Collaborative Learning, Contextual Learning, Project Based Learning, dan metode lainnya yg setara.
10. Materi Pembelajaran adalah rincian atau uraian dari bahan kajian yg dapat disajikan dalam bentuk beberapa pokok dan sub-pokok bahasan.
11. Bobot penilaian adalah prosentasi penilaian terhadap setiap pencapaian sub-CPMK yang besarnya proposisional dengan tingkat kesulitan pencapaian sub-CPMK tsb., dan totalnya 100%.
